

Is America Safe?

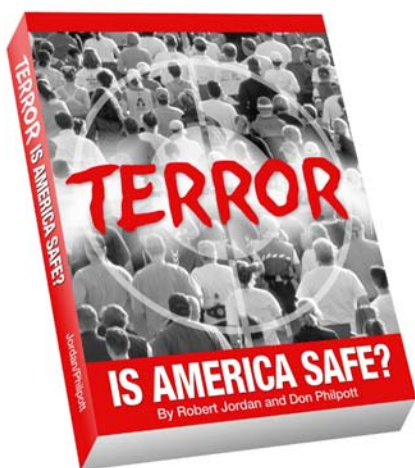

by Robert Jordan and Don Philpott,
Published by IsAmericaSafe.com Publishing.

Publication June 1, 2006
ISBN 0-9774365-2-7

Available from bookstores and online at www.isamericasafe.com - $24.95.

Do you feel safe?

Do you know what to do to protect yourself and your loved ones from a terrorist attack or a natural disaster?

“Is America Safe? provides a much needed, one stop shop, “educational handbook on what the average citizen should know and can do in both preparing for, and responding to a terrorist attack on US soil; an attack that most government officials who deal in this field feel is inevitable.

“Is America Safe? is intended to reduce some of our fear by educating us and providing us with the confidence that comes with not feeling powerless. Understanding the enemy, reporting suspicious activity, reducing vulnerabilities, knowing how to survive and initiating preparatory actions is one way for each individual American to do his or her part in helping to win the war on terrorism.”

- Brigadier General Matthew E. Broderick, USMC (Retired)
Former Director of Operations for Homeland Security.

“In these testing times of international terrorism, Islamist fundamentalists and natural disasters of unprecedented force, no one can allow themselves to be caught without information. Our very survival is based on the amount of information and intel we have available at our fingertips. Don Philpott, a veteran journalist and Robert Jordan, a U.S. Marine veteran and public affairs specialist have done the hard work for you. In this book they bring you all the information that the federal and state governments never bothered to tell you - information that could well save your life one day. Now all you need to do is read the book.

--Claude Salhani - International Editor, United Press International.

Who should read this book?

Everybody should read this book. The War on Terror is high on most Americans' list of concerns. It promises to be with us for at least another generation to come. We are relatively safe within our borders – now. But experts agree that it's not if, but when we may be attacked in the future. Much more needs to be done in many areas, such as protecting our borders on land and at sea, screening foreign visitors and getting the public more involved in neighborhood watch programs. Man-made and natural disasters are also a greater threat to most of us than terrorism – and cost U.S. taxpayers and victims dearly. Still there is much that one may do to minimize exposure to such threats and to mitigate the damage done to your loved ones and your property if they are caught in one of these disasters.

Is America Safe? What do you think?

Is America Safe?

Contents:

Introduction

Forward

By Brig Gen Matthew E. Broderick, USMC (Retired)

Section One

- The 21st Century Threat to the Homeland
- Counter Terrorism Tactics
- Is America Safe – Are we winning the war?
- Main Terrorist Groups

Section Two

- Historic Overview
- Domestic Terrorism
- International Terrorism
- The Spread of Global Terrorism

Section Three

- Emergency Preparedness
- To Do Checklists

200 pages

The Authors.

Robert Jordan is an award-winning, writer and broadcaster. A retired Marine Corps major, he received the Bronze Star Medal w/”V” as a combat correspondent in Vietnam and distinguished himself as the Marine Corps/DoD spokesman in Beirut, Lebanon, in 1983 reporting on the terrorist truck bomber attack which took 241 lives, appearing on 20/20, Nightline, Frontline and CNN. He is the founding president of the Beirut Veterans of America and a life member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Marine Corps League, the Vietnam Veterans of America and the U. S. Marine Corps Combat Correspondents Assn. He is a former editor of Homeland Defense Journal and was a contributing author for The American War Machine and has written for many other magazines and newspapers.

Don Philpott has been writing, reporting and broadcasting about security, civil unrest and terrorism for almost 40 years. For 20 years as a senior correspondent with the Press Association-Reuters wire service, he traveled the world reporting on major events and trouble spots including Northern Ireland, Lebanon, Israel, South Africa and the Far East. He is now senior correspondent with Homeland Defense Journal and writes for magazines and newspapers in the United States and Europe. He is the author of more than 50 books including the recently published Integrated Physical Security Handbook and is a regularly contributor to radio and television programs on security issues.

Orders from:

Is America Safe.com
375 Douglas Avenue # 1002
Altamonte Springs FL 32714
Tel: 407-862-5477
Fax: 407-862-5734
email dp@mediawiseus.com